Hunch

Improving Engagement on Hunch

Redefined Problem Statement

Hunch is a new-age social media network that uses polls to drive social media experiences.

We have to enhance platform engagement by launching three new features by the end of 2024. These features should differentiate Hunch from other social media platforms, complement its unique selling point of polls, and boost user interaction.

Problem Teardown

Decreased Engagement -> Decreased sense of belongingness -> Decreased interest -> Users don't make in-app purchases and act as detractors -> Revenue decreases

Why solve this problem now?

Social media is a very competitive market. The time users spend on a platform is proportional to its success.

Therefore, increasing user enagagement is very important for a company like Hunch.

Value proposition to Users

Finding new ways of engagement can lead to greater user satisfaction and enjoyment.

How will the company benefit?

As engagement increases, users develop a habit of using the product more frequently.

As a result, revenue and referrals would increase.

The brand identity will become stronger and better.

About Hunch

Founded in 2022, Hunch is a poll-based social media app to empower users to anonymously share their opinions on varied topics. It has over a million registered users across India and the US, with about 220,000 monthly active users.

Revenue Model

- Premium Features: Offering advanced analytics or customization options for paid users.
- Advertising: Displaying targeted ads based on user preferences and poll data.
- Data Insights: Selling anonymized poll data to businesses for market research.
- Partnerships: Collaborating with brands for sponsored polls or exclusive content access.

Last summer, my squad and I embarked on a legendary cross-country road trip in a retro camper van we revamped ourselves. We hit up quirky roadside stops, danced under desert stars, and learned to surf at a hidden beach. Cliff jumping at a secret waterfall was both terrifying and exhilarating! We bonded over campfire stories and late-night taco truck hunts, making memories that still make us laugh hysterically today.
